Relevant to Society members

Is the topic within the scope of family planning? Does the topic advance the mission and vision of the Society?

Center health equity

Will guidance on this topic advance the equitable delivery of evidencebased, anti-racist, and genderaffirming family planning clinical care?

No

Remove from the pending list as the topic is not relevant nor aligned

Yes

Address practice challenges

Will guidance on this topic benefit clinicians practicing in a restrictive state or where it is difficult to practice?

Address variation in practice

Either because there is limited or no guidance, clinical guidance on the topic is inconsistent, or there are inequities in care.

Address a timely or urgent need

Is guidance urgently needed to facilitate clinical practice on this topic, especially due to changes in the legal landscape?

No

Deprioritize; save on file for future prioritization discussions

Yes

Society well suited to address

Is the Society's approach and focus well suited to address this? Are other organizations providing trustworthy clinical guidance on this topic?

No

Collaborate with partner organizations or refine scope to supplement current guidance

Clinical Guidance
Topic Prioritization
Framework

Updated September 2024

Sufficient evidence

Yes

Is there sufficient evidence to develop clinical guidance on the topic?

No

Refer to Research Committee and/or suggest alternative Society resource

Society
Family
Planning

YesHigh priority